Eligible ChatGPT Pro and Business subscribers can now claim up to $500 per month in free API credits as a subscription...

Source: OpenAI Platform

The Brief

What shipped
OpenAI added a benefit that lets eligible ChatGPT Pro and Business subscribers claim free API credits.

Capabilities
The benefit provides credits for using the OpenAI API; it does not describe any new model or API capability. The stated maximum is $500 per month, but per-plan credit amounts are not stated.

Availability
Eligible ChatGPT Pro and Business subscribers can activate it in ChatGPT or the API Platform by linking an API organization they own. Detailed eligibility and credit amounts are not stated in the announcement.

Why it matters
For qualifying subscribers, the credits can offset API costs by up to $500 per month. Check the detailed terms before using this to estimate production spend, since the announcement does not say what amount a particular subscriber receives.

Caveats
The announcement does not specify which subscribers qualify, how credits are applied, or any expiration or usage terms. The $500 figure is a maximum, not a stated guaranteed monthly amount.
